

Soilwork, Neon Rebels

Staring through the eyes of a cosmic breed
Through distant skies above the fields
Another face another dimension. A broken circle of human attention
Around making my way through the desert plains
I'm a legend a gift from the gods, sirens scream there is no rest
A diary of a tragical life in this nest

[Chorus]
Screaming for victory... Neon rebels will rise
Breaking down the barricades... Nailed to the skies

Riding on the winds at the speed of light
Selfish pride is a rebel's might. Cosmic warfare a taste of my life
A gallery of a lifetime under the knife.
An endless voyage in an endless time, remind thoughts of an ancient sign
Staring through the eyes of a cosmic breed through distant skies above the fields
Destructive thoughts in a narrow void, another mission in galaxy 2001

[Chorus]

[Repeat First Verse]

[Chorus]
Killing to stay alive - madness rules here again tear away the golden skies
Neon rebels will reign!
