

Someday Never, White Noise

White Noise

hold on, we're letting go and taking in a little more than just air motionless, a breath of "ready or not";
let's once more pretend that we care about every word we say so dry your eyes
this is not goodbye
as long as you're listening you'll always hear me singing just know that i meant it, every word rain falls drowning's half the battle of knowing how much of it's real worry, i won't worry i promise i'll meet you halfway if you promise that baby i, oh baby i get one more shot to hit all of my misses im holdong out. are you taking in?
so dry your eyes
this is not goodbye
as long as you're listening
you'll always hear me singing
just know that i meant it, every word hands on deck, we're going down quickly ill go down with this ship, darling things will get easier people move on but our love will not change because baby, ill be here what kept me here so long was i could fall asleep and dream but i'd do anything anything, to make this last for ever i swear it gets better, just always remember every word cause baby, ill be here holding on to everything we've shared