

Sometree, Hands And Arrows

Of hands and arrows
stairways and head coats
you stand, in my way
again,
catch your eyes and fade

You are always in time
You are always in time

Spent half my life
casting you from somewhere,
casting you aside

Spent half my life
casting you from somewhere,
casting you aside

Of hands and arrows,
I hold out and let go
your hand,
all over my face
I stand
In your way and fade,

You are always in time
You are always in time

Spent half my life
casting you from somewhere,
casting you aside

casting you from somewhere,
casting you aside
