

Sonic Youth, Lee

Thom these days I feel so displaced
Nothing feels like anything
There's no room left in this place
I've left my whole life standing

Now I feel so right
And I can't stop dreaming
Now I feel okay
With these thoughts all streaming

Now I feel like an angel
Grown my own set of wings
All the boys are one room dipped in time
And girl you're off in the wind

Now I feel so right
And I can't stop dreaming
Now I am the light
That's what I'm feeling

Now I feel like an angel
With dark eyes shining
Now the world has come undone
No bells are chiming

I'm trying to see this through
To see from me to you
But you can't see me at all
No, you can't see...me
I can't stop this now
No, no that's not what I want
And I can't be the one
To calm you down

Thom these days I feel so displaced
Everything here is just television
And I'm left off without a trace
Of the strength of our vision
This dim-lit reason
Twilight rhythm
This infinite season
The big decisions...
