

Sonny, It's Never Too Late

Now I've got it all planned out,
how I'm going to win you back.
First- I'll drive 2 days to see you
Second- Show up to your door w/ roses behind my back.
Third- I'll say how much I can't live without you,
You know I can't live without you.

Breathe in the cold air,
it smells like every winter night we spent in the snow.
Maybe I'm just a little crazy, but...
nobody's perfect.
And every night I want to see fireworks with you,
but even in my dreams
I know this can't come true.

Though here I am at your doorstep.
Won't you ask me to come inside?
It's been 11 months since we sat on your couch... together.
And you never knew how much
I wanted my hand on your knee.
Now please tell me how we feel so far apart.

Can I fix it now?

This cold leather couch could be our starting ground
and the truth will be told.
So tonight the light on the street won't be mine.
