Cherry Trees
Shit-kickers
Falling leaves and road-kill
Debt Collector
Corner Store
Sweet Louise
The Pepper Girl
All the beauty
Of Spring
In the city
Let me
Take you into my arms

You said there's something broken
Something twisted
Something just ain't right
Well what the fuck you think I've been saying since our first kiss that night

Tell me
Is it woman's logic that it's not a lie if it's left unsaid
But don't you know babe
There's more to love than just giving good head

I wanted to believe you
I thought I'd turned around
I wanted to believe in you
I'm sorry that I let us down

Dress yourself in lingerie
And steal the name of saints
You thought that we were perfect
But forgot the lies deceit and pain

And yeah I guess we're all fucked up on our paths of least resistance
But please don't say it's just an excuse to hide my fear of commitment

I wanted to believe you
I thought I'd turned around
I wanted to believe in you
I'm sorry that I let us down
