

Sophie Ellis-Bextor, Circles (Just My Good Time)

(Male vocalist:)

You got me running in circles
You got me listening to blues

You got me running in circles
You got looking for clues

You got me watching my back
I don't know where i'm at

You got me pulling out hair
In despair

You got me running in circles
You got me listening to blues

You got me running in circles
You got looking for clues

You got me running...
You got me running...

(Sophie:)

Didn't mean to make you paranoid
When i'm the lady, you're the toy
I have to lead you like a boy

With me a life would have more space
A specimen from another race
Take that confusion off your face

Don't have to over analyze
I just have fun with other guys
You should listen to this advice

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

(Male vocalist:)

You got me running in circles
You got me listening to blues

You got me running in circles
You got looking for clues

You got my screaming my calls
Seeing nowhere at all

You got me so obsessed
In a way over my head

(Sophie:)

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

(Male vocalist:)

You got me running in circles
You got me listening to blues

You got me running in circles
You got looking for clues

(Sophie:)
You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

You're just my good time
You're just my pastime

(Male vocalist:)
You got me running in circles
You got me listening to blues

You got me running in circles
You got looking for clues
