

Sophie Ellis-Bextor, Move To The Music

The summer's I dance till morning
The heartache and sleepless nights
The party's and lover's calling Days when nothing went right

These moments have made me
Though I am today...

Chorus:
All of my yesterdays
The highs and lows of but I can still Move to the Music the journey that I've made, all those emotions but I can still move while the music plays within a new today now that I've grown up to oh I can still move to the music
I won't be one to say that I regret a moment

'cos I can still move while the music plays

A cross word, a bruise, a memory
Some presence and too much wine
The days when it rained and thundered
When your heart found mine

These moments have made me
Though I am today...
