

Span, You

Once I had my hands on a star
Lying out there on a distends so far
So far away, I dreamed of it everyday
Reaching out, so far away.

You, were my hole world
You, were my girl
x2

Then she came down to me
Making me warm and full of love
I thought I'd found my light in life
Hoping it would stay to the end of time.

You, were my hole world
You, were my girl
x2

But the light from the star it faded away
Missing the open sky, she left me
I was alone, with an empty hole in my heart
Shaped as a star, who once was mine.

You, were my hole world
You, were my girl
x2

You x2

You, were my hole world
You, were my girl
You were my girl, my girl
