

Sparks, Beaver O'Lindy

I'm one minute older and I'm doing all right
I'll gain valuable experience in front of you tonight
They say my voice is going to change
I'm one minute older, I'm doing all right
I'll gain valuable experience with you tonight
They say my voice is going to change
It cracks like Artic ice-flows then it croaks like old-folks homes

B-E-A-V-E-R O'-L-I-N-D-Y

Well, I'm the London that is dead, I'm the boy in your bed

B-E-A-V-E-R O'-L-I-N-D-Y

Well, sure you've seen me before, no doubt you'll see much more

Well, I'm the girl in your head but the boy in your bed

The trashman's valet, the words that you say

You've seen me before, you'll see me much more

Well, I'm as big as can be, as big as TV

I'm the words that you say, the words that you say

The trashman's valet and the words that you say

Well, you've seen me before, you'll see me much more

Well, I'm as big as can be, as big as TV

I'm your wallet-sized friend, your wallet-sized friend

The London that's dead, the London that's dead

Well, you've seen me before, you'll see me much more

Well, I'm as big as can be, as big as TV

Well, I'm the girl in your head but the boy in your bed

Well, sure you've seen me before, no doubt you'll see much more
