

Sparks The Rescue, You're Not Alone

Let the blood cover us.

Let the blood cover us.

When I found you broken, tearing at the seams,

Our insides fell out, only holding us back.

I would love to be red with you.

I would love to be red with you.

Our torn hearts show, with the pieces missing.

We're draped in the snow, left reminiscing.

When I found you broken, tearing at the seams,

Our insides fell out, only holding us back.

I would love to be red with you.

I would love to be red with you.

I would love to be red with you.

I would love to be red with you.
