

Spiritual Beggars, No One Heard

You're waiting for salvation

- guess it never came to pass

Who helps you when you're searching

- you know that nothing lasts

Still you plead for absolution

- And you're buying all the lies

- He was never there, never there

All your praying - it's all lies

All your kneeling - I spit in your eyes

The fate of betrayers - You got what you deserved

All your praying - No one heard

Ignoring what's around you

- never heeding nature's call

Building temples and double standards

- watching wisdoms fall

Still you think you've been chosen

- hypocrisy standing tall

You think your God is waiting

- one eye laughs in his hall
