

Spitalfield, Five Days And Counting

In my car
Five days and counting, here you are
The phone rings
What more could you say?

I know you won't ever admit that you fell for him
He never loved you back
Isn't it wonderful?
So predictable
I told you so

Stay awake
I'm here now
Don't say sorry

Not picking up
'Cause he knows you're calling
He's holding back
'Cause he knows you're falling
You're night and day
And that's why he's stalling
But one day (one day), he'll be sorry

I hope that you never relive that
Something tells me trouble always gives you a hand
It's just a matter of passing time
After time, after time

Stay awake tonight
Forget about your last goodbyes
And you'll be sorry
Stay awake tonight
Forget about your last goodbyes
And don't say sorry
Say sorry

Stay awake
I'm here now
Don't say sorry
Stay awake
I'm here
Why don't you tell me is it worth it
To close your eyes and live a dream?
Tell me, was it perfect?
Was he really everything
You ever thought someone could be?

Stay awake tonight
Forget about your last goodbyes
And you'll be sorry

Stay awake
I'm here now
Don't say sorry
Stay awake
I'm here
Why don't you, don't you
Stay awake tonight
Try and forget about your last goodbyes
And you'll be sorry
Stay awake tonight
Try and forget about your last goodbyes now
Don't say sorry