

Splendor, Silence Again

Losing yourself to all the same
You're not to blame
The writing's on the wall
But you didn't lose it all
Distance grows with every breath we take

Silent thoughts on the horizon
Midnight falls between the lines

Making amends along the way for the everyday
The question still remains
Was it worth the price to pay?

Distance grows with every breath we take

Silent thoughts on the horizon
Midnight falls in between the lines
Alters burn away the reason
Ashes fall between the lies

Is this what it's worth?
Is this what you hoped for?
(Somewhere in between)
Standing on the edge, spilling over
(Somewhere in between Somewhere far)

Is this what it's worth?
Is this what you hoped for?
(Never looking back)
Standing on the edge, spilling over
(Is this what you thought would last?)

So far away
