

Spock's Beard, Dreaming In The Age Of Answers

We mapped the waves in the ocean
Bridged the clouds in the sky
Grew our wings in a maze of emotion
Found our will to fly

We lit the land of believers
With words we burned into stone
We held our ground in the war of deceivers
Claimed it as our own

We're dreaming in the age of answers
We're breathing in eternity
While the future flows and dances
As far as the mind can see

On the edge of creation
Beyond the absence of doubt
With every reason but no explanation
We fought our way back out

We're dreaming in the age of answers
We're breathing in eternity
While the future flows and dances
As far as the mind can see
