Spongecola, All We Need

Been turning my blind eye for the longest time
Still I see where this is headed
And my mind is going
(should I risk it)

It's all been said and done before
Honestly, I'm out of patience
For anymore of your excuses

Kicking and screaming
Inside lies a feeling
One lonely voice
There's a backdrop of noise
Am I on my own
Tonight, I'll let you know

I light the fire for those of us who wept
For all the heartache that we felt
This is all we need
This is all I need

I sing along with each and everyone
Beneath the sorrow, lies someone
Who's reaching out for a hand
That's reaching too

A common tale if truth be told
Familiar as it seems
My story lies between

Silent and seamless

The sound of my weakness
Is drowned in the noise
Of a world with no voice
And I take it all
Tonight, the night will know

Ooh-ooh

Take flight when the nightlight's out of sight
Take flight, just go and take the night
Take flight as we share this drink tonight
Take flight, it's our fight, I fight tonight

Kicking and screaming
Inside lies a feeling
One lonely voice
There's a backdrop of noise
Are we on our own
Tonight, we'll let them know
(We share the sorrow)

I light the fire for those of us who wept
For all the heartache that we felt
This is all we need
This is all I need

I wrote this song for each and everyone
Beneath the sorrow, lies someone
That's reaching to you
