

Spoon, Jonathon Fisk

Maybe you remember maybe youre locked away maybe well meet again some better day some better life mhhh jonathon fisk speaks with his fists cant let me walk home on my own and just like a knife down on my life so many ways to set me right

its such a long way home its how the story goes and its like atom bombs and blunt razors atom bombs and blunt razors jonathon then says its a sin but he dont think twice cause to him religion dont mean a thing its just another way to be right wing just like a knife down on my life so many ways to set it right thats how it goes thats how the story goes

youre too old to understand cause i just want to get home now i just want to get home now jonathons right down on my life

so many ways to set me right on the long walk home thats how the story goes and jonathon fisk always a risk tells me he counts my teeth every night i want to get them all back now i want to get them all back and i want to turn him around
