

Spoons, Bridges Over Borders

The world is turning circles
Around you
The stars all streak like headlights
Through the room
Then like a crystal ball all cloudy
Suddenly it gets crystal clear
Like a dream without an anchor
Its floating through the midnight air
Its knocking at my door
Knocking

Im taking
Bridges over borders
I got a new plan
I got to work it out
Im taking
Bridges over borders
Scrap the discipline
Scrap everything

You thought that youd be clever
That youd fool time
But this will be forever
No more lies
Like a windowpane all foggy
Something comes and wipes it clean
Like ambitions long forgotten
The pictures coming back to me
Its knocking at my door
Knocking

Im taking
Bridges over borders
I got a new plan
I got to work it out
Im taking
Bridges over borders
Scrap the old plan
Throw it out
Im taking
Bridges over borders
Scrap the discipline
Scrap everything
Throw it away!