

Spoons, Take Me Walking

Lies it could break a heart
Questions that no one can understand
Cries that Ill never hear
A sudden end to all the footsteps in the sand
But I know youre there
I know, I know
But what can I do,
What can I do
Tell me now
Tell me now

I see ages of difference
I the way, in the way that we are
I feel better in your kind of world
So take, take me away

Take me
Take me walking

Your hand is on my shoulder
I walk the streets but Im never alone
I feel happier in your kind of world
So take me, take me away

Take me
Take me walking
Take me
Take me walking with you
Take me
Take me walking
Take me
Take me walking with you

Time is all worn out
Theres no more tick in the clock
Once fire, now ash
My dreams, what about my dreams

Take me
Take me walking
Take me
Take me walking with you
Take me
Take me walking
Take me
Take me walking with you
