

Spoons, Tidal Wave

I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
If that is what it takes
To shake you up

The city sleeps
Under stormy skies
The palm trees sway
As you close your eyes
And the wind comes down
Like a hundred-ton weight
And you will know
That its me coming again

I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
If that is what it takes
To wake you from your deep sleep

Youre resisting me
Like a hurricane
Your tornado words
Crack like whips
Again and again
But I wouldnt stop
For anything
The more you fight
The more I want
I want everything!

I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
If that is what it takes
To shake you up
I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
If that is what it takes
To wake you from your deep sleep

I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
If that is what it takes
To wake you up
I ride the wave
The tidal wave of love to you
And in the end
You wont know
What came over you