

Spout, Do It Again

where do I belong?
somewhere in a song?
wrapped up in melody
but melody's gone.

I'm left here standing alone in the rain wondering if you're somewhere feeling the same.
and I'll close my eyes - and wait for July and I can't deny - I need you by my side.

(Chorus)

I don't know what you said
just say it again.
and I don't know what you do to me
just do it again.
I never felt this before, always had to pretend
I had the time of my life. can we do it again?

timing is everything.
and yet I have none.
or else you would be here
and I would have won.
but I'm stuck here standing alone in the rain knowing you're nowhere feeling the same.