

Spout, Push Me Away

She hasn't eaten in days her family wonders about her ways but they don't understand ..so they try the best they can to push it all away

she hasn't spoken in days she lost her job that never pays as she tries to understand why she never found a man who wouldn't push her away she says everybody puts their faith in someone they cannot see yet I'm standing right here, you won't believe in me tell me what it takes so I don't feel fake and I'll try to be good for goodness sake All I ask from you is please don't push me away and I don't know what they have said to you while some of it just may be true I need some time, I'll be fine - don't push me away her mother was never there and her father never cared and the children understand that even they have their demands that just get pushed away she's hasn't smiled in thirty days since her father flew away and she tries to understand why he couldn't be a man and tell her that'd he stay

(Chorus)

-Bridge-
go ahead, do what you may I've got nothing to say you've said it all before on your way out the door I can't keep losing you I can't keep going through the same thing every day go ahead..... push me away
