

Sprung Monkey, Beautiful

We're falling down from a grey cloud
Open wounds still bleeding
Yesterday will forget my name
Tomorrow will never forgive me
I never felt that i want too much
I never said that i need too much
But with the lack of the strength i need
There i was almost giving up

Then i saw beautiful
And it opened up my eyes
When i found beautiful
It opened up my life
Now i know beautiful
And how things should be
You are my beautiful...
...Beautiful to me

Laying down on a quiet night
Hoping that no one will find me
I never thought i could feel so low
Definition of empty
I always knew that i felt too much
I always knew that i cared too much
But at the edge down upon my knees
There i was almost giving up

Then i saw beautiful
And it opened up my eyes
When i found beautiful
It opened up my life
Now i know beautiful
And how things should be
You are my beautiful...
...Beautiful to me

We're falling down from a grey cloud
Open wounds still bleeding
Yesterday will forget my name
Tomorrow will never forgive me
I never felt that i want too much
I never said that i need too much
But with the lack of the strength i need
There i was almost giving up

Then i saw beautiful
And it opened up my eyes
When i found beautiful
It opened up my life
Now i know beautiful
And how things should be
You are my beautiful...
...Beautiful to me!

And i saw beautiful
And i found beautiful
Now i know beautiful
You are my beautiful...
Yeah your so beautiful!
