SR-71, Paul McCartney

Last night I had a dream It wasn't about anything But it made me smile It made me scream We should take this slow 'Cause I can't let go When it feels so good To feel this low I stumble and she sees all Waiting for me to fall Obsessing over her But it's nothing personal We should take this slow 'Cause I can't let go When it feels so good To feel this low We'll take our time Tell each other's lies In a world so much brighter If Paul were still alive Take this slow Till I lose control And I'm falling down Last night I had a dream It wasn't about anything I made you smile I made you scream
