

Stabilizer, Face The Music

if its all the same
i prefer to let it go, today twice bitten?
jesus, isn't everyone?

if its all the same
i will pick myself up, today on my own solid stone like a secret in waiting my fears have been fading it is time for this turn and face the music, feel the beat run out, let the raindrops lecture me turn to face the aftermath chase away the beaten path run just like this, this trust is lifeless will i ever change?

i don't want to be the same no more escaping
no more blinded eyes

i will embrace the heat i will embrace the cold through and through but not for you