

Stabilizer, Slam

you gave yourself every chance to run away run away from this you gave yourself
every chance to shut me out, leave me out, yeah run away, away tired of all your late night calls back and forth another day i guss i don't hear you now if anything the curtain falls on the remains of a sunken ship you should have thought of that before cuz i won't do this any more buried in all of this was a good run but i won't be your thing, your experiment can't explain the thought away back and forth never again i don't want that i don't need that if anything the curtain calls

on the remains of a sunken ship i wish i had seen before that i don't need you anymore
