

Stacie Orrico, Maybe I Won't Look Back

I woke up from dreaming
I dreamed I got a call from a friend of mine
She sounded really lonely, but I had somewhere to be
I said I'll call you later cause I really have to go
I can't be late, she'll be okay, this is important
Then I forget completely

You can be who you choose to be
But whether you do or whether you don't
It depends on your priorities
And I know that it's not easy

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
Cuz I'm not really proud of the way I have lived today
But if I choose to, follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back and feel like
Time has gone and passed me by
Maybe I won't look back
On those days I could have said something
In those times when I was needed I was busy
Was it worth it, no I don't think so,
Cause now I see the moment is gone
Maybe I won't look back
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word, a simple smile, I was selfish
But if I change my heart today tomorrow it might be okay
And maybe I won't look back...

I woke up from a nightmare
Where I was walking down the street
Invisible and no one else could see me
All my chances were gone
I can't get your attention
I've had so many things to say but never tried
Afraid you wouldn't listen
I should have done it all differently

You can be who you choose to be
But whether you do or whether you don't
It depends on your priorities
Lord, help me choose them wisely

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
Cuz I'm not very proud of the way I have lived today
But if I choose to, follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back and feel like
Time has gone and passed me by
Maybe I won't look back
On those days I could have said something
In those times when help was needed I was busy
Was it worth it no I don't think so
Cause now I see the moment is gone
Maybe I won't look back
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word, a simple smile, but I was selfish
But if I change my heart today tomorrow it might be okay
And maybe I won't look back...

Rap
I can't hold on back-can't be shy
This is my big chance to be livin' the life
I gotta stand up strong take the ride
Throw all those useless excuses aside
There's so much to do, I got alot to say

I don't always understand but I follow anyway
Cuz there is a bigger plan, a destiny
I can't waste this precious time

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
Cuz I'm not very proud of the way I live today
And if I choose to, follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back and feel like
Time has gone and passed me by
Maybe I won't look back
On those days I could have said something
In those times when I was needed I was busy
Was it worth it no I don't think so
Cause now I see the moment is gone
Maybe I won't look back
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word, a simple smile, but I was selfish
But if I change my heart today tomorrow it might be okay
And maybe I won't look back...
Then maybe I won't look back
Then maybe I won't look back
