

Stacie Orrico, Tantrum

I've always been a strong girl my heart has a mother too all people say
'stacie, you shoulda known girl' but my heart just wouldn't leave it alone he was everything I should have wanted even daddy really thought so too but my heart just wasn't havin' it after all its pains it led me back to you ohh

I have a heart like a child and my mind's like its mother tries to tell it what's right but my heart just won't bother it keeps kickin' and screamin' plugs its ears it's not listening when it sees what it wants my heart throws a tantrum my heart thinks it gets to be the boss of me it leads me places i shouldn't go no, no no no no no when i follow, there's always tragedy i try to keep my ground but it's like i'm hollow i've been tryin' to led you lead me all the way down ohh show me things that my mind just can not, can't see well and it was wonderful, wonderful, beautiful, beautiful, lovely night you showed me this passionate, and terrifying love
