Staind, Rainy Day Parade

You the great pretenders Blood to paint your pictures While you're stepping over Fallen people Lying in the streets You the great offenders Only your views matter While your heart grows colder I wish that you could Open up and feel For a while See if you can take it, Feel you're alive and this is all part of it, Feel. Could it be that we're all afraid Cause it feels Like a rainy day parade

We the great believers Blood is legal tender And I will not surrender What it was our fathers Died to bear We the people stated Not negotiated Just to be forgotten I wish that you could Open up and see For a while See if you can take it, See, You're alive and this is all Part of it, See? Can't you see That we're all afraid Cause it seems Like a rainy day parade

What I see
Is all too real
What I need
Is what you steal
And all I reap
Is what you take
Upon my back
On which you break
And I just wish
That we could Rise above and

Feel
For a while
See if you can take it,
Feel Your alive and this is all part of it,
Feel Could it be that we're all afraid
Cause it feels
Like a rainy day parade
