

Stanisław Soyka, Hard To Part

We mapped the stars
We sailed the seas
And flew to the blue sky
As far as we could see

It was meant to go forever, forever

And we did not count the time we spent
Living out our future
With the memories, the only consequences

Oh, it's so hard to part

Ebb tides wash away the traces
Of our liquid places
The stars are, what they were
Too long ago

You have left me breathless
And defused
Leaving but the measure
Of love, we gave to each other
Oh
Oh, it's so hard to part

Ebb tides wash away the traces
Of our liquid places
The stars are, what they were
Too long ago
