

Staring Back, Invite Only

Witness atrocity, but what do you see you blind yourself!
so tell me now just what is right in your mind these lies won't, they won't prepare you for the real life once again what do you see, why do you choose to ignore these facts And i'm not kidding, about what it all comes to and i start getting.....wait for it to settle in the jokes on your when you find yourself it makes the time go by.
stand up hipocracy, i'd like to think a high horse doesn't suit me but this time i can feel it inside, i can see you try to hide these lies won't prepare you And when it happens to you you'll justify, all night
And i'm not kidding, about what it all comes to its times a frame of mind, and desires in the skys the only thing thats in your mind is what you invite so come join me as i question why we magnify and advertise. it makes the time go by, makes the time go by the jokes on your when you find yourself alone and frightened.
