

Staring Back, Joey

if now's the time to get it right it won't be over
I won't get over it I thought about what I did the air is colder than your shoulder it won't be over until you're through with it times have changed but I haven't I wonder what you'd say if I was never in your way without you to occupy my mind and I've wasted all my time

I know what's right it's untouchable like (you) you know I'm right I'm the shadow in your light
