

Stars, When? (Demo?)

All I want is you
But you'll never be true, no
I know you lie
Tried to do the friend thing
And ended up sending
My last goodbye

Through Wednesdays mail
But my heart's so frail
That by Thursday, I wrote again.
I know you need some time but
You've got to be mine
And I'm asking when

When will you give in to the smile
In the eyes of that stranger with you?
When will summer shine
In your life and then in mine?

(Oh, I just met a wonderful new man
He's fictional but you can't have everything)

Crying on the inside
But also the outside
And in between
Glad I'm feeling good, though
There's something you should know
I think you're mean

Call me a child
And say I'm too wild
I'll take no for an answer then
I think you're gonna choose me
You say that you'll lose me
But when love when?

When will you give in to the smile
In the eyes of that stranger with you?
When will summer shine
In your life and then in mine?
(repeat x6)
