State Of Shock, Too Pretty

Seven days and I'm still sick
I need you more than I'll admit
I'm drowning here in a fifth of gin
Now I'm hoping for the best
But not holding my breath
Was there something that I missed
Some sort of clue maybe a hint
Cause there's a lack of love that's on you lips

And I can see your face in my mirror Hear you voice in my ear You're everywhere but here

Maybe Baby You're Too Pretty for me Maybe Baby You're playing hide and go seek I'm hoping for the best Cause you're so hard to get I'm not holding my breath Cause you're too pretty for me

All the days the love we made
Tell me it wasn't all just fake
I need to know cause my hearts at stake
Now I'm hoping for the best
But not holding my breath

And I can see your face in my mirror Hear you voice in my ear

You're everywhere but here

Maybe Baby You're Too Pretty for me Maybe Baby You're playing hide and go seek I'm hoping for the best Cause you're so hard to get I'm not holding my breath Cause you're too pretty for me

Now you had me at hello And then you let me go Now everyday I wait Is spent in second place

And I can see your face Too pretty for me Hear you voice Too pretty for me

Maybe Baby You're Too Pretty for me Maybe Baby You're playing hide and go seek I'm hoping for the best Cause you're so hard to get I'm not holding my breath Cause you're too pretty for me

I know you, I know you lie Cause you're too pretty for me
