

Status Quo, Confidence

(Bown)

All she needs is a little confidence
All she knows is to run and hide
Through a lifetime of knocking back
Oh, don't do this, you can't do that
But she never learned to interact
All she needs, little confidence

All she learned was a little self-defence
Looking out over number one
She's been diving and ducking round
In and out the lost and found
But it never laid her to the ground

All she needs is something to believe
Sweet security
All she needs, tries so hard to please
But all she really, all she really needs
Is the confidence

No chance of keeping her close to me
No sense abusing her liberty

Through a lifetime of knocking back
Oh, don't do this, you can't do that
But she never learned to interact
All she needs, is something to believe
Sweet security
All she needs, tries so hard to please
All she really, all she really needs
Is the confidence
