

Steel Pole Bath Tub, The 500 Club

I don't remember being on the floor
I don't remember how it smelled
I don't remember how they've been there before
I don't remember when I fell
I don't remember having any fun
I don't remember what I've been
I don't remember what the bruises are from
Or why these stains are on the bed
I don't remember writing on my arm
I don't know what I meant to say
I don't remember meaning you any harm
I don't remember yesterday
I don't remember being in the street
I didn't know they knew you too
I don't remember ?? in your memories
Because I don't remember you
Why go through all the effort
While I change my tune (??)
I forget about you
I don't remember how I made it home
But I got back without my shoes
I don't remember why I woke up alone
With no more memory of you
I don't remember that we were in love
That's only one thing that I recall
I was singing at the 500 Club
I don't remember her at all
Why go through all the effort
While I change my tune (??)
I forget about you