

Steel Seal, When the Devil Calls

The raven croaked and she knew what he said
Her lifetime would soon be over
A little more time, then she would be dead
The Prince of Darkness was waiting in Hell
"Who'll save my soul from damnation?"
She cried with voice of despair

From sleeping babes she'd been sucking the breath,
Feeding herself on their entrails
Breaking by charms yet the sleeping of death
She'd called the dead to rise up from their graves,
But now her good times were over
And she will never rest

'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
There's no time, there's no way to remember
'Cause when the Devil calls you know its time to fall
What you've been, what you've done, why it is you've fallen,
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
You can hear from the voice of the thunder
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
What the Fate has in store for your soul for ever, evermore. Evermore! Evermore!

And in he came with his eyes throwing flames,
Satan to fetch his believer
And at his voice she was forced to obey
Coming in fear with her Master away
Evil gave her fame and power
But she would pay with her soul

'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
There's no time, there's no way to remember
'Cause when the Devil calls you know its time to fall
What you've been, what you've done, why it is you've fallen,
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
You can hear from the voice of the thunder
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
What the Fate has in store for your soul for ever, evermore.

'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
There's no time, there's no way to remember
'Cause when the Devil calls you know its time to fall
What you've been, what you've done, why it is you've fallen,
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
You can hear from the voice of the thunder
'Cause when the Devil calls, you know its time to fall
What the Fate has in store for your soul for ever, evermore. Evermore! Evermore!
