

Steel Train, Blown Away

So blown away by all the faces and dreamers
I'm no weaker than you dear
I took a ride and I saw you inside a soul that lives at rest Are you done for?
But you had a lot to say
Did I take it a different way?

Some will stand and some will leave
But you, You'll do what you will 'Cause I'm dreamin' as you're leavin' Shine bright as I shine the light on the love that took my best
Best luck girl
Cause you got a ways to go,
Crawling your way back home

And this was the last cry cause I'm dyin'
You can take my good plans
Cause I'm in trouble now

I held the door for you to explore as you stood head in the clouds
And I'm leavin' cause you're dreamin'
You clear the smoke and you learn how to float
High in the air
As I glare
you took it away to see
The person you'll never free

And this was the last cry cause I'm dyin'
You can take my good plans
Cause I'm in trouble now

So lift your head and shine...
