

Stefy, Nothing Really

Today's another gloomy day here in LA
They say it's cos the weathers not the same
Feels that way, and I don't want the world to change
The world's not mine to change, can't change the world
Don't want the world to change, the world's not mine
It's nothing really...

Just spilt a can of cola on the carpet
Turned it from white to grey
Don't wanna be a cry baby
But it's such a crying shame

And I don't want the world to change
The world's not mine to change, can't change the world
Don't want the world to change, the world's not mine
It's nothing really...

I carved a heart
In the tree
With a question mark
plus Stefy
Who could it be
Who's gonna sign their name
And who'll be the one
Who grows old with me

Today's another gloomy day in LA
and I don't want the world to change
The world's not mine to change, can't change the world
Don't want the world to change, the world's not mine
It's nothing really...
