

Stella Soleil, You

In your time of trouble
I wish that I could be the one
That you'd call at night
When you needed a friend
In your time of sorrow
I wish that I could be the one
To make you smile again

Its not over
Just start over
Oh you are so beautiful and special
You're my hero
You don't even know

You are always there inside my mind
I'm so preoccupied
Sending love to you across the sky
So I never seem to get things done
You're the only one
I worry all the time
So I have to let you go

In your time of trouble
I wish that I could be the one
That you'd want to hold you
And tell you you're fine
In your time of sorrow
I wish that I could be the one
To make you try again

Its not over
Just start over
Oh you are so fragile and so peculiar
You took a little detour
You feel a little unsure
Don't give up
There's a way out and you know it
Don't give up

You are always there inside my mind
I'm so preoccupied
Sending love to you across the sky
So I never seem to get things done
You're the only one
I worry all the time
So I have to let you go
