

Stellastarr*, Arlington Queen

This is how we kill ourselves, and maybe we were wrong
But who will ever know, and in the winter we will meet again
And we'll pretend were strong, but you won't see me sweating

Open your book, way deep inside, I will be underlined
And open your dreams, I have not died, I will be underlined
Where have you gone, where have you gone, Arlington queen?
And where about yours, wondered with you, Arlington queen

We would make a better team, if we weren't separate
And I don't even care if it's cold outside
'Cause baby you're a half a step away from crying in the couch now

Open your book, way deep inside I will be
And open your dreams, I have not died, I will be underlined
Where have you gone, where have you gone, Arlington queen?
And where about yours, wondered with you, Arlington queen

And we will never go home, and we will never go home
We'll be coming back down, oh oh
We'll be coming back down, oh oh
We'll be coming back down, coming back down

In the darkness we grow, in the darkness we grow
In the darkness we grow, in the darkness we grow
In the darkness we grow, in the darkness we grow
In the darkness we grow, in the darkness we grow

We'll be coming back down, oh oh
We'll be coming back down, oh oh
Will be coming back down, coming back down
