

Stephen Bishop, Rescue You Before Nightfall

Just like the little bird sings a song that's never heard You sing alone
It's a mean little game and there's no life to blame but your own and So it's down and down
you go into the darkest place you'll ever know
'till your fear has brought you here
I promise you
I promise you
I'll get you home before nightfall

When your tearin' yourself apart
When you've broken your own heart I'll help you mend it If there's the smallest ray of hope
If you see no moon in your telescope I'll help you find it... and when it's down and down
you go
on an endless search to find your soul till your fear brings you here Something inside of you is trying to be strong but you long for release and who you used to be and when it's down, down, down
and your fear brings you here..
I Promise you
I promise you
I'll get you home
Before Nightfall..
