Stephen Lynch, The Ballad Of Scarface

Do you know Tony Montana Rode a boat here from havana Scar from eating pussy lines his face

Finds a day job washing dishes Hates his life he only wishes Some day in this world to find his place

"And he has a scheme For his own drug regime Dream, scarface dream"

Hired by the gangster Omar He climbs the ranks, he's getting so far Selling guns and drugs out in the streets

Soon he works for Frank the main boss Doing his and dodging chainsaws Getting rich and living life so sweet

"But he crawes romance In his disco pants Dance, scarface dance"

See Tony wants to rule the world So he kills Frank and steals his girl She'll give him the son he's never had

Alas her woomb is so polluted From the powder she has tooted There'll be no son and that makes Tony sad

"As he lookes to the sky Here his planetiff cry Fly, pelican fly"

Now he starts to get too high On his own supply Thinking he's the only game in town

And his enemies decide
On a plot of regicide
It's time for the king to lose his crown
Scarface must go down

Oh tony's killers soon surround him Sencing death has finally found him He aims his gun prepared to do his part

And as he shouts "it's not the end, Say hello to my little friend" Assains' bullets pierce his fragile heart

"It's a tragic goodbye He had flown so high Human butterfly Die, scarface die"
