

Stephen Simmonds, One

1st verse

In light of all the evil things, I'm done
I believe there is only one who can embrace my soul with purifying love

Your beauty is comparable to none many moons and many suns will pass, our love will last till the very ends begun
That's probably eternally, so let it be

In light of all the evil things, I'm done
I believe there is only one...

2nd verse

From the day that I first saw you smile
there was no way to deny the truth my love for you has made me seen the light

Without you I'm helpless like a child
In a world without it's drows; it's clare, but now your here forever by my side
That's probably eternally, so let it be

In light of all the evil things, I'm done
I believe there is only one...

In light of all the evil things, I'm done
I believe there is only one...
