

Stephen Simmonds, Universe

No one owns the universe
The universe owns none
Love is the only beauty that exists beneath the sun
Give me cause I don't know how
Give me and I'll learn, yeah
I feel it coming closer now
I feel the tables turn, yeah

All to do is far from done
No you're not the only one
The revolution is yet to come
Tears will fall and men will die
The gap of evil is open wide
It kills the soul but not the mind

Darkness can't oppose the light and so we shall see
Children knowing wrong from right
The truth will set them free
Plant the seeds and the will grow
Break the ancient walls, yeah
When it's time then you will know
You will watch them fall

All to do is far from done
No you're not the only one
The revolution is yet to come
Tears will fall and men will die
The gap of evil is open wide
It kills the soul but not the mind

All to do is far from done
No you're not the only one
The revolution is yet to come
Tears will fall and men will die
The gap of evil is open wide
It kills the soul but not the mind
