

Stephen Speaks, The Goodbye Song

And everytime, I think of you
I'll remember all the goods times that we've had
And everytime, I sing this toon
I will laugh, I will cry, I will close my eyes
Cause I know that it wont be long

Till we sing, We will rise
We will laugh away the night
And the good times will never end
When we meet again

And im gonna be somewhat lonely
Cause you know no one could ever fill your shoes
And as sharp as i am
You have taught me how to be a stronger man
And i look foward till the day i learn again

Till we sing, We will rise
We will laugh away the night
And i know that it wont be long
Untill we meet again

Though i wish i were with you now
I know that theres reason for space
I can dream of memories your writing down
And i look foward to the day
And the smile on your face

We will sing
We will rise
We might cry and we might fight
And the good times will never end

We will laugh
We'll relax
We'll reflect on the years we've passed
And i know that it wont be long
Untill we meet again

And everytime i think of you
