Stephen Stills, The Ballard Of Hollis Brown

(Bob Dylan)

Hollis Brown he lived on the outside of town Hollis Brown he lived on the outside of town With his wife and five children And his cabin broken down

He looked for work and money and he walked a ragged mile He looked for work and money and he walked a ragged mile His children are so hungry they've Forgotten how to smile

Your babies' eyes are crazy they're a tuggin' at your sleeve Your babies' eyes are crazy they're a tuggin' at your sleeve You walk the floor and wonder why With every breath you breathe

Rats got to your flour bad blood it got your mare Rats got to your flour bad blood it got your mare Is there anyone that knows Is there anyone that cares

Way out in the wilderness a cold coyote calls Way out in the wilderness a cold coyote calls Your eyes fix on the shotgun That's a hangin' on the wall

Your brain is a bleedin' and your legs can't seem to stand Your brain is a bleedin' and your legs can't seem to stand Your eyes fix on the shotgun That you're holdin' in your hand

There's seven breezes blowin' all around a cabin door There's seven breezes blowin' all around a cabin door Seven shots ring out Like the ocean's pounding roar

There's seven people dead on a South Dakota farm There's seven people dead on a South Dakota farm Somewhere in the distance There's seven new people born
