

Steps, Why?

And now I know that I was wrong
You never really cared for me all along
And with you
Every dream I had
Was all it ever was, ain't that the fact?

So I hold my head deep in my hands
I'm lost at sea no sign of land
I never knew what love could cost
No one could know how much I've lost

(Chorus)
I can't go on now that you've gone
There's nothing left inside
I'll never understand why you had to lie
It's not enough to say you love
And then just say goodbye
I'll never break these chains
There's nowhere to hide
Why did you have to lie?

And now that every hope has gone
I've got to find the strength to carry on Alone much more than before
I've given everything
There's nothing more

So I hold my head deep in my hands
I'm lost at sea no sign of land
I never knew what love could cost
No one could know how much I've lost

(Chorus)

Why does it hurt so much
When there's nothin' I can do?
Why do I hate myself
'Cos I can't stop lovin' you?
Now my life is empty
All I have is pain.
I can't forget you
Why couldn't you have stayed?

Why did you have to lie?
