

Steve Vai, Love Blood

The time had come when it was done
And I was made into this world
Damned to be for eternity bound
By immortal coil
And it's so sad how I'm driven mad
By my human innocence
As I consume the forbidden fruit
That flows under the skin

You could be a poor boy
Or you could be a rich little girl
I am a slave to what I need
And I need you to bleed

Let me feel your love blood
Burning through my veins
I wanna feel your love blood
Rushing to my brain
I can hear your love blood
Calling out my name
I wanna feel your luscious love blood
Dripping from my face

Come to me with a symphony
In the beating of your heart
A fragile flower for me to devour
As I hold you in my arms
And Agony is haunting me
After I carry out my curse
So I search for God the elusive faade
As I crawl into the dirt

You could be a poor boy
Or you could be a rich little girl
I am insane for what I need
And I need you to bleed

Let me feel your love blood
Burning through my veins
I wanna feel your love blood
Rippin' up my brain
I can hear your love blood
Calling out my name
I wanna feel your luscious love blood
Dripping from my face
