Steve Vai, Survive

Get ready for your life won't you take your place in line You may close your eyes if you please.

Try to keep it clean there's so many here you see everybody needs to get by.

And if you fall on your face on the way you'll get it together someday.

Chorus:

Like the sun in the sky we fall and we will rise Helping each other survive

Just like the animals we need to carry on or how would we ever survive?

Prejudice is pain just like poison in your veins Burning up your hope and your strength.

Freedom you will find in your spirit and your mind Nothing ever can take that away.

And when your castles of sand melt in the sea Mountains will move with your faith.

(Chorus)
